Sen. Lloyd Smucker to Read to Pre-schoolers at Lancaster Family YMCA to Celebrate Read Across America

Joining a national effort to motivate children to read more, Sen. Lloyd Smucker (R-Lancaster) will read a book to young children in the Lancaster Family YMCA Child Care Center as part of Read across America. First celebrated on March 2, 1998, Read across America is a nationwide reading motivation and awareness program that is held each year on the birthday of popular children's author Dr. Seuss.

Sen. Smucker chose to read at the Lancaster Family YMCA because of the YMCA's commitment to preparing children for success in high school, college and the workforce by providing a high-quality pre-school to all children, regardless of ability to pay. A partner in the United Way of Lancaster County's Learning Lancaster Collaborative, the Lancaster Family YMCA was recently chosen by the School District of Lancaster as a Pre-K Counts site.

The media is cordially invited to cover this event.
